WEST BOCA MEDICAL CENTER APPOINTS NEW CHIEF HUMAN RESOURCES OFFICER

BOCA RATON, Fla.- January 2011 — West Boca Medical Center is proud to announce the promotion of Stephanie Sherman from Human Resources Director to Chief Human Resources Officer. In her new role, Sherman will provide visionary strategic leadership for all aspects of West Boca Medical Center’s human resources programs. As a key member of the senior management team, Sherman will play a significant role in achieving the company’s growth initiative and will ensure that the hospital attracts, develops and retains a talented and engaged workforce.

“Stephanie Sherman has earned this designation based on her excellent track record of achieving stellar results at West Boca Medical Center and fulfilling a key role as the Human Resources partner to the senior leadership team, directors and staff,” said CEO Mitch Feldman.

Sherman’s human resources career with Tenet Healthcare began in 2005, when she assumed the role of Human Resources Manager at Delray Medical Center. In 2006, Sherman was promoted to Human Resources Director at West Boca Medical Center. During her nearly 5-year tenure in this role, Sherman made significant contributions to the hospital. One of her most influential accomplishments at West Boca is the “UMATTER!” program, which has been a successful employee recruitment, retention, rewards and recognition program. In addition, Sherman has been responsible for the conversion of paper HR employee files using the Doculex system into virtual HR paperless records. West Boca Medical Center is the first Tenet South Florida hospital to implement a paperless HR environment.
